ADA THE YOUNG CITY OF CHURCHES, SCHOOLS AND INDUSTRIES

George Harrison Elected, for which the People who Cast the Vote Deserve the Credit and to Whom the News Extends Congratulation.

Personal friendship than which there is no brighter star in the firmament of men's resolves, could not ever direct the support of the News before a democratic primary, but the love the News sustains for this city and the consuming regard maintained for its honorable progress until it has become one of the best in the state will influence its action beyond any consideration of precedent, personal safety or future political consequences. The achievement of success in the contest for the head of the ticket by the progressive business and moral element should afford personal gratification to each participant, for assuredly it could not be held a "one man victory." Considering the difference in the organization, the duration of the campaign and the firm entrenchment of the wide open interests in Ada, there is small reason to speculate as to the reason of the closeness of the vote. Of course, a great many men voted without any particular consideration of "for or against" the joint, or "for or against" town progress. The personal regard for the candidate, his church, lodge or social affiliations largely effected his considerations.

A few men, and but few of value and weight in the community, opposed George Harrison simply because the News supported him. These hate fellows, men who appear to subsist on malice, hate and ill conceived jealousy paraded the streets hurling vile denunciative epithets at the News, the most of which were of personal direction against the editor, doing their best to construct the campaign on the sole issue of "The Weavers trying to run the town" and the News "persecution" of one of the candidates for mayor. Such effort was distinctly abortive; the people did not believe either accusation was true, and, therefore, the News only right of self congratulation is on the fact that it occupies a field in a city, a majority of whose people are broad minded, unprejudiced and the supporters of principles and measures which favor constructing in this particular spot a city of high morals and commercial and educational progressiveness.

The returns of the election are as follows:

Words of Appreciation.

I want to tell every body who supported me yesterday for mayor, that I believe I know the nature of the fight and how much work it took to elect me. I deeply appreciate the support and loyalty of my friends. When the election on March the 25th ratifies the action of yesterday's primary and I shall have assumed the office of mayor, I shall try to be a becoming officer for all the people, and I shall especially enforce the law against all lawlessness. Respectfully,
GEORGE A. HARRISON.

Thanks, for Everybody.

E. H. Lucas, W. C. Duncan and W. T. Cox went to Guthrie yesterday in the interest of the state normal. This morning the editor received a telegram from Mr. Lucas in behalf of the party. It read as follows: "We congratulate democracy, the citizenship of Ada, Mayor George A. Harrison and the Evening News on the results of the contest for mayor."

Mrs. Barry Again.

Mrs. Maggie Barry will appear in Ada again Friday and Saturday evenings at the First Presbyterian church. On Friday she will render "Macbeth" and on Saturday evening, "The Gibsons Doll House." Do not fail to hear this talented woman of the Southern platform.

An Aged Voter.

Grandpa Meaders nearly 95 years of age was assisted to the second ward polls Tuesday and cast a ballot for his choice. Grandpa does not believe in getting too old to exercise the privilege of the ballot.

Thanks.

I would like to take this opportunity through the medium of the News, of thanking all my friends who stood by me so loyally at the polls on yesterday.

Ada Evening News.

OTIS B. WEAVER, Editor and Owner.

Entered as second-class mail matter March 26 1904, at the postoffice at Ada, Oklahoma, under the act of Congress March 3, 1879.

There was little, if any, liquor used at, or near the polls.

Sheriff Smith and Sam McClure were on duty with attention alert to order and sobriety.

The election judges and clerks did their work well.

Ada should observe St. Patrick's day today. Didn't have time Tuesday.

Now it is all over lets pull for a bigger and better Ada. This is what we all want any way.

It was a bitter contest but in the best of humor throughout. This is to be commended in the greatest degree.

No one has complained about unfair methods at the polls. It was done on the square said a voter on the street this morning.

Those working boys of Ada who boldly lined up at the polls and did the personal work which brought the direct results are the ones to whom most credit is due for George Harrison's election.

There are more doctors in Oklahoma per capita, than in any other state in the union; so it developed in the legislature Tuesday. ("Nough to cause the dispensary business to flourish") an exchange observes.

At Court House.
Tom Duncan, Col., charged with assault and attempt to kill, was bound over in Justice Brown's court today in the sum of $500 in default of which he was committed to the county jail.

Chas. Case, col., of Stonewall is being tried this afternoon for selling liquor.

C. C. McAdoo was released in the county court today on the charge of selling liquor.

Handed Us a Lemon.

You have heard of people handing folks a lemon, haven't you? J. T. Higgins brought to the News office today a native grown lemon and "handed it" to the editor. A lemon its size has never been seen before in Ada. It weighs one and one-half pounds and measures 15 inches in circumference. He has several of this calibre growing at his home.

McRae & Whitesides have on display in their window a refrigerator which beginning March 20th, will be reduced in price $1.00 each day until sold. Take a look when you pass. If

J. T. Higgins was here from Stratford Tuesday to vote and help hold the election.

TRICK NOT ALWAYS AMUSING.

Sometimes Hubby is Entirely Unable to See the Joke.

This is a simple trick, and every married woman can perform it; but it requires the assistance of a confederate with a big bag of shining tinware on his back. First get a husband with an extra pair of slightly worn trousers in his wardrobe; then have the confederate—the man with the bag of tinware—come to the back door and knock gently. The wife must then peep out in a frightened way, and immediately the man with the tinware tells a tale that resembles a mining stock advertisement. The wife stops to think a few minutes. Suddenly she must rush to the wardrobe, but only after the man rattles the brilliant tinware to arouse her. The wife must walk back to the man again with the trousers. The man must take them and hand the wife a few tin pans. All the while the man with the tinware must smile happily. At last the transaction is completed, and presto change! the husband's trousers have disappeared and in their place appears some tinware on the kitchen table. This trick is very novel, and will amuse the husband greatly. The trick should not be performed while the husband is in bed, unless he has an extra pair of trousers.—F. P. Pitzer, in Judge.

"I GUESS" AND "CALCULATE."
Expressions Are Good English and Not at All American.

The accepted manner of defining Americans, either male or female, in the London comic papers or in second-rate English novels is to lard their speech plentifully with "calculate" and "guess," and with "well" at the opening of each sentence. This mode of marking, or any other, is in itself totally unimportant, but linguistically it is not without interest, for while it is purely conventional as now used and has no relation to any American habits of the present day, whether good or bad, it is pleasant to note that the hard-worked insular humorist need not have gone so far afield to find the words necessary for the identification of Americans. They really had but to turn to the "New Letters" of Thomas Carlyle (volume 1, page 178) and there read the following sentence: "He has brought you a Fox's book of Martyrs, which I calculate will go in the parcel to day; you will get right good reading out of it, I guess."—Scribner.

Elephant vs. Crocodile.
An African hunter once found a large crocodile hanging in the fork of a tree about ten feet from the ground. As the place was fully half a mile from any water, it was difficult to account for the crocodile's strange position. When questioned upon the subject the natives explained that it was put there by an elephant. It seems that when the elephants waded into the Lake Ngami to bathe the crocodiles are in the habit of worrying them and biting their legs. Sometimes when an elephant is annoyed beyond endurance it picks its tormentor up and puts it among the branches of a tree and leaves it there.

THE AIRDOME.

Harry Parks, Sly Old Fox, Starts Something on East Main Street.

Don't complain this summer about there being no place to go. Harry Parks is preparing to accommodate any old show that may come along whether big or little, good or bad. He is erecting in front of the Harris hotel a summer play house. He is going to call it the "Airdome." It has a floor space of 50x80 and it will have a seating capacity of 600 or 800 people. "If it need be," says Harry, "I could accommodate 1,000 people." It will be seated with chairs on an inclined floor and at a later date, a canvass roof will be provided.

Two shows have already been booked, one for Monday night and another on Tuesday. The pleasure seeking people of Ada will be glad to learn of this enterprise.

"We Deliver the Goods."

Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

$100.00 paid by Dr. Shoop for any recent case of gripe or acute cold that a 25 cent box of Preventics will not break. How is this for an offer? The doctor's supreme confidence in these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets—Preventics—is certainly complete. It's a $100, against 25 cents—pretty big odds. And Preventics, remember, contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early cold were always broken. Safe and sure for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25c. G. M. Ramsey.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is cloudy, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

Uncle Sam's Vast Resources.

Our vast ascendancy not only in acquired wealth, but in the resources through which new wealth can be created, enables us to command the world's co-operation in every exigency. The United States stands first in the production of many staple commodities, and beats all the rest of the world combined in the yield of mineral oil, copper, cotton and corn. In an age of electricity, copper is an article of prime and constantly increasing necessity, and the world will have to come to us for most of its supply. It is coming to us, and it will come to us for more of it in 1908 than it got here in 1907. In a period in which cotton, as an agent of civilization, is pushing its conquering march round the globe, we are producing three-fourths of the world's cotton, and we could readily double our present output of it. The copper, the cotton, the wheat, the oil, the corn, the meats and the other staples which we are exporting to Europe, Asia and Africa in immense quantities these days, says Circle Magazine, are creating for us the credits abroad which have been bringing to us streams of gold beyond the dreams of Midas. Those were magnificent tributes to the United States' command over the world's prizes of fortune which the Imperial Bank of Germany and the Bank of England paid us when they advanced their rates of discount two or three times recently, with the vain hope of checking the current of gold which was flowing to us.

A Chicago woman in an effort to keep her husband home at night played that she had been bound to the bedpost by burglars, who tossed things about the house in a very promiscuous manner. It has been a problem from time immemorial how to keep hubby at home. Women have tried various methods, such as putting on their most attractive gowns, having a box of cigars on the table and plenty of good things to eat, but without marked success. They have shifted to tears, reproaches, reading aloud passages from old love letters and veiled threats that they would go home to mother. But even these have had no great effect. About the only reliable, sure-to-work way is to marry a man so crippled up with rheumatism that he can't get out. Thus his loving wife occasionally may have the pleasure of his society.

Dr. Dudley A. Sargent, for many years physical director of Harvard university, and all his life concerned in the physical training of young men and young women, has found by observation and measurement that class scholars and women as a class are physically defective. Pale faces, sunken eyes, flat chests, round shoulders and small, flabby muscles are characteristic of them, he declares. On the other hand, the leaders in athletics too often have flabby intellectual muscles. The conditions form a strong argument for making physical training a part of the regular college curriculum. This is already the practice in some colleges for men and in most colleges for women. It might well be in all.

The establishment of a national bureau of health is regarded as one of the things which may be accomplished by the present congress. A committee of 100 men of science has consulted with the president in regard to it, and he has appointed a committee to advise with him. The purpose is to establish a bureau which will have power to deal with interstate and international questions of quarantine and health, and will have a wide range for the collection of information and general dissemination of knowledge among the people. One of the first steps will be a redistribution of the scientific bureaus of the government, in order that they may work more efficiently.

The merchant tailors, in convention assembled, have now considered the subject of the proper style of dress for men in the coming season, and have issued their edict on the subject. The particularly gratifying thing about the prescribed rules and regulations for masculine garments is that they are not rigidly obligatory, and men can abide by them, or not, as they please. That is wherein the tailors lack the advantage enjoyed by the dressmakers. The tyranny of the tailors is not so complete.

It is to be noted that the members of the "Women's Proposal club" of Los Angeles do not agree to marry the men who may accept their proposals of marriage. Becoming engaged and marrying are two different matters.

HAD HIS SCARE FOR NOTHING.

Little Man's Humorous Recollections of Uneasy Period.

All of a sudden a little man who had a seat about midway of the car, and who looked like a tailor, burst out laughing, and he laughed so long and so heartily that the man next to him inquired:

"My friend, something tickles you?"

"Yes, it does. I can't help but laugh every time I think of it."

"Well?"

"Well, I was in the run on one of the banks in October."

"I see. You were one of the crazy ones."

"Crazy as a loon. I was so scared that I went all to pieces. I heard of it while at home, and paid three dollars for a hansom to hustle me right over there. Then I stood all night in line, and didn't get into the bank until next day at two o'clock. Lord, but how I did fume and sweat! A fellow had to give me a drink of brandy to prevent a collapse—ha! ha! ha!"

"Well, you got into the bank?"

"I did—ha! ha!"

"And you got to the teller's window?"

"Yes—ha! ha!"

"And drew your money?"

"No. That's where the laugh comes in. I got there to find that the balance wasn't a blamed cent, and that I'd gone through all that scare for nothing—ha! ha! ha!"

NO MONEY IN THE BUSINESS.

Why Big Company Gave Up the Culture of Microbes.

A couple of years ago a rich company was organized in New York to sell microbe cultures to wine and beer makers, bread makers, cheese makers, etc. At first it looked like a highly profitable business proposition. Many manufacturers became interested. Some took stock. They saw millions in it. The chemist of one great brewing concern was frank enough to say: "Gentlemen, you have a wonderful business, but there is no money in it. I have bought one tube of cultures from you for $20. I shall never need any more. I can now do my own breeding. That tube will produce billions, trillions, quadrillions in an incredibly short time; therefore, so far as our brewery is concerned, we have an inexhaustible supply. You may sell every brewery in the country $20 worth, and that will be the end of your business."

The chief promoter of the microbe business said the other day: "I soon learned that the brewing industry of the United States is controlled by chemists. You cannot reach the proprietors of breweries except through their chemists, who are their safeguards. I had to quit selling microbes or starve to death. I could not eat the things."

JUDGING BY THE RESULTS.

Villager's Conversion Had Not Been of Great Avail.

"In our business we get many doubtful compliments," said Col. John F. Bishop, deputy surveyor of the port, the other day, "but I do not think I ever received a compliment such as my grandfather got down in my native state of Tennessee. My grandfather was a minister and I was a very small boy when we both strolled down the road one day. One of our fellow villagers came along toward us."

"Good morning," said the villager, who apparently had looked upon the cup. "Ish con-ver-hic-ted, parson," he stammered with difficulty. "An-twash-you-hic—that con-hic-con-ver-ted-hic-me."

"That must be so," replied my grandfather, "for it's certain the Almighty had nothing to do with your conversion."—New York Evening Telegram.

THREE CURES OF ECZEMA.

Woman Tells of Her Brother's Terrible Suffering—Two Babies Also Cured—Cuticura Invaluable.

"My brother had eczema three different summers. Each summer it came out between his shoulders and down his back, and he said his suffering was terrible. When it came on the third summer, he bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and gave it a faithful trial. Soon he began to feel better and he cured himself entirely of eczema with Cuticura. A lady in Indiana heard of how my daughter, Mrs. Miller, had cured her little son of terrible eczema by the Cuticura Remedies. This lady's little one had the eczema so badly that they thought they would lose it. She used Cuticura Remedies and they cured her child entirely, and the disease never came back. Mrs. Sarah E. A Little Too Soon.

Sam Jackson's wife was to be buried this afternoon and the bereaved colored man was shaking with grief over the coffin, when a comely young darkey maiden stepped over to his side and said, tenderly: "Don't, Mistah Jackson; yo' mus' try an' bear up. Let me help yo' to fo'get!"

"Oh, Miss Johnson!" uttered the weeping man, between sobs, "it am berry kind in yo' t' offah such consolation, but ah mus' wait till aftah de funeral befo' ah engages in marriage talk!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Not Born There.

A Washington man, whose business had brought him to New York, took a run not long ago into Connecticut, where he had lived in his childhood. In the place where he was born he accented a venerable old chap, of some 80 years, who proved to be the very person the Washingtonian sought to answer certain inquiries concerning the place. As the conversation proceeded the Washington man said: "I suppose you have always lived around here?"

"Oh, no," said the native. "I was born two good miles from here."

Perfectly Plain.

With all the impartiality of the partisan, Prof. Price set forth the contentions of both political parties regarding the tariff.

At the close of his talk he was surrounded by the fair members of the Woman's Current Events club. "O Prof. Price," cooed the fairest, "thank you so much for your perfectly lovely talk! I understand all about the tariff now. It's just like a lover's comparisons—the free-traders are the other girls!"—Sunday Magazine.

THE DOCTOR'S GIFT.

Food Worth Its Weight in Gold.

We usually expect the doctor to put us on some kind of penance and give us bitter medicines. A Penn. doctor brought a patient something entirely different and the results are truly interesting.

"Two years ago," writes this patient, "I was a frequent victim of acute indigestion and biliousness, being allowed to eat very few things. One day our family doctor brought me a small package, saying he had found something for me to eat, at last."

"He said it was a food called Grape-Nuts, and even as its golden color might suggest, it was worth its weight in gold. I was sick and tired, trying one thing after another to no avail, but at last consented to try this new food."

"Well! It surpassed my doctor's fondest anticipation and every day since then I have blessed the good doctor and the inventor of Grape-Nuts."

"I noticed improvement at once and in a month's time my former spells of indigestion had disappeared. In two months I felt like a new man. My brain was much clearer and keener, my body took on the vitality of youth, and this condition has continued."

ECONOMY CARRIED TOO FAR.

Old Man's Thrift That Led Him Into Ridiculous Action.

President J. G. Schurman of Cornell was discussing elective college courses, of which in the freshman and sophomore years, he disapproves.

"A freshman of 16 or 17," said President Schurman, "is too young to choose for himself the courses best for him. His mind is not mature enough. It will make mistakes."

"In its immaturity, its proneness to error, it is like the mind of an old man in my native Freetown. He, though old, was mentally undeveloped, and saw nothing wrong or ridiculous in a piece of economy that he put in practice in the cemetery."

"The old man had lost four wives, and desired to erect for each a headstone, with an inscription commemorative of her wifely virtues."

"But inscriptions, he found, were very expensive. He economized in this way:

"He had the Christian name of each wife cut on a small stone above her grave—'Emma,' 'Mary,' 'Hester,' 'Edith.' Under each name a hand pointed to a large stone in the center of the lot, and under each hand were the words: 'For epitaph see large stone.'"

To Save Trouble.

A Connecticut man tells of two Irishmen from Boston who, while driving through the state named, observed that many of the barns had weather-vanes in the shape of huge roosters.

"Dennis," said one Irishman to the other, "can ye tell me why they always have a rooster an' niver a hyn on the top of thim barns?"

"Sure," replied Dennis. "Its because of the difficulty they'd have in collecting the eggs."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

ADA THE YOUNG CITY OF CHURCHES, SCHOOLS AND INDUSTRIES

George Harrison Elected, for which the People who Cast the Vote Deserve the Credit and to Whom the News Extends Congratulations.

The News is generally pleased with the election returns, especially as regards the selection for mayor. Its open support of Geo. A. Harrison was based simply on its positive convictions that the welfare of Ada was deeply involved in the results of the mayoralty contest.

Personal friendship than which there is no brighter star in the firmament of men's resolves, could not ever direct the support of the News before a democratic primary, but the love the News sustains for this city and the consuming regard maintained for its honorable progress until it has become one of the best in the state will influence its action beyond any consideration of precedent, personal safety or future political consequences.
The achievement of success in the contest for the head of the ticket by the progressive business and moral element should afford personal gratification to each participant, for assuredly it could not be held a "one man victory." Considering the difference in the organization, the duration of the campaign and the firm entrenchment of the wide open interests in Ada, there is small reason to speculate as to the reason of the closeness of the vote. Of course, a great many men voted without any particular consideration of "for or against" the joint, or "for or against" town progress. The personal regard for the candidate, his church, lodge or social affiliations largely effected his considerations.

A few men, and but few of value and weight in the community, opposed George Harrison simply because the News supported him. These hate fellows, men who appear to subsist on malice, hate and ill conceived jealousy paraded the streets hurling vile denunciations at the News, the most of which were of personal direction against the editor, doing their best to construct the campaign on the sole issue of "The Weavers trying to run the town" and the News "persecution" of one of the candidates for mayor. Such effort was distinctly abortive, the people did not believe either accusation was true, and, therefore, the News only right of self congratula-tion is on the fact that it occupies a field in a city, a majority of whose people are broad minded, unprejudiced and the supporters of principles and measures which favor constructing in this particular spot a city of high morals and commercial and educational progressiveness.

Words of Appreciation.

I want to tell every body who supported me yesterday for mayor, that I believe I know the nature of the fight and how much work it took to elect me. I deeply appreciate the support and loyalty of my friends. When the election on March 28th ratifies the action of yesterday's primary and I shall have assumed the office of mayor, I shall try to be a becoming officer for all the people, and I shall especially enforce the law against all lawlessness. Respectfully,
GEORGE A. HARRISON.

Thanks, for Everybody.

E. H. Lucas, W. C. Duncan and W.
T. Cox went to Guthrie yesterday in the interest of the state normal. This morning the editor received a telegram from Mr. Lucas in behalf of the party. It read as follows: "We congratulate democracy, the citizenship of Ada, Mayor George A. Harrison and the Evening News on the results of the contest for mayor."

Mrs. Barry Again.

Mrs. Maggie Barry will appear in Ada again Friday and Saturday evenings at the First Presbyterian church.
On Friday she will render "Macbeth" and on Saturday evening, "The Gibsons Doll House." Do not fail to hear this talented woman of the Southern platform.

An Aged Voter.

Grandpa Meaders nearly 95 years of age was assisted to the second ward polls Tuesday and cast a ballot for his choice. Grandpa does not believe in getting too old to exercise the privilege of the ballot.

Thanks.

I would like to take this opportunity through the medium of the News, of thanking all my friends who stood by me so loyally at the polls on yesterday.
THOMAS P. HOLT.

Harry Parks, Sly Old Fox, Starts Something on East Main Street.
 Don't complain this summer about there being no place to go. Harry Parks is preparing to accommodate any old show that may come along whether big or little, good or bad. He is erecting in front of the Harris hotel a summer play house. He is going to call it the "Airdome." It has a floor space of 50x80 and it will have a seating capacity of 600 or 800 people. "If it need be," says Harry, "I could accommodate 1,000 people." It will be seated with chairs on an inclined floor and at a later date, a canvass roof will be provided.
 Two shows have already been booked, one for Monday night and another on Tuesday. The pleasure seeking people of Ada will be glad to learn of this enterprise.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart, and the stomach, and their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.
 If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is dark, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommended and sell.

Uncle Sam's Vast Resources.

Our vast ascendancy not only in acquired wealth, but in the resources through which new wealth can be created, enables us to command the world's co-operation in every exigency. The United States stands first in the production of many staple commodities, and beats all the rest of the world combined in the yield of mineral oil, copper, cotton and corn. In an age of electricity, copper is an article of prime and constantly increasing necessity, and the world will have to come to us for most of its supply. It is coming to us, and it will come to us for more of it in 1908 than it got here in 1907. In a period in which cotton, as an agent of civilization, is pushing its conquering march round the globe, we are producing three-fourths of the world's cotton, and we could readily double our present output of it. The copper, the cotton, the wheat, the oil, the corn, the meats and the other staples which we are exporting to Europe, Asia and Africa in immense quantities these days, says Circle Magazine, are creating for us the credits abroad which have been bringing to us streams of gold beyond the dreams of Midas. Those were magnificent tributes to the United States' command over the world's prizes of fortune which the Imperial Bank of Germany and the Bank of England paid us when they advanced their rates of discount two or three times recently, with the vain hope of checking the current of gold which was flowing to us.

A Chicago woman in an effort to keep her husband home at night played that she had been bound to the bedpost by burglars, who tossed things about the house in a very promiscuous manner. It has been a problem from time immemorial how to keep hubby at home. Women have tried various methods, such as putting on their most attractive gowns, having a box of cigars on the table and plenty of good things to eat, but without marked success. They have shifted to tears, reproaches, reading aloud passages from old love letters and veiled threats that they would go home to mother. But even these have had no great effect. About the only reliable, sure-to-work way is to marry a man so crippled up with rheumatism that he can't get out. Thus his loving wife occasionally may have the pleasure of his society.

Dr. Dudley A. Sargent, for many years physical director of Harvard university, and all his life concerned in the physical training of young men and young women, has found by observation and measurement that high scholarship men and women as a class are physically defective. Pale faces, sunken eyes, flat chests, round shoulders and small, flabby muscles are characteristic of them, he declares. On the other hand, the leaders in athletics too often have flabby intellectual muscles. The conditions form a strong argument for making physical training a part of the regular college curriculum. This is already the practice in some colleges for men and in most colleges for women. It might well be in all.

The establishment of a national bureau of health is regarded as one of the things which may be accomplished by the present congress. A committee of 100 men of science has consulted with the president in regard to it, and he has appointed a committee to advise with him. The purpose is to establish a bureau which will have power to deal with interstate and international questions of quarantine and health, and will have a wide range for the collection of information and general dissemination of knowledge among the people. One of the first steps will be a redistribution of the scientific bureaus of the government, in order that they may work more efficiently.

The merchant tailors, in convention assembled, have now considered the subject of the proper style of dress for men in the coming season, and have issued their edict on the subject. The particularly gratifying thing about the prescribed rules and regulations for masculine garments is that they are not rigidly obligatory, and men can abide by them, or not, as they please. That is wherein the tailors lack the advantage enjoyed by the dressmakers. The tyranny of the tailors is not so complete.

It is to be noted that the members of the "Women's Proposal Club" of Los Angeles do not agree to marry the men who may accept their proposals of marriage. Becoming engaged and marrying are two different matters.

Siberia contains one-ninth of all the land on the globe. Great Britain and all Europe, except Russia, together with the whole of the United States, could be inclosed within its boundaries.

HAD HIS SCARE FOR NOTHING.

Little Man's Humorous Recollections of Uneasy Period.

All of a sudden a little man who had a seat about midway of the car, and who looked like a tailor, burst out laughing, and he laughed so long and so heartily that the man next to him inquired:

"My friend, something tickles you?"

"Yes, it does. I can't help but laugh every time I think of it."

"Well?"

"Well, I was in the run on one of the banks in October."

"I see. You were one of the crazy ones."

"Crazy as a loon. I was so scared that I went all to pieces. I heard of it while at home, and paid three dollars for a hansom to hustle me right over there. Then I stood all night in line, and didn't get into the bank until next day at two o'clock. Lord, but how I did fume and sweat! A fellow had to give me a drink of brandy to prevent a collapse—ha! ha! ha!"

"Well, you got into the bank?"

"I did—ha! ha! ha!"

"And you got to the teller's window?"

"Yes—ha! ha!"

"And drew your money?"

"No. That's where the laugh comes in. I got there to find that the balance wasn't a blamed cent, and that I'd gone through all that scare for nothing—ha! ha! ha!"

NO MONEY IN THE BUSINESS.

Why Big Company Gave Up the Culture of Microbes.

A couple of years ago a rich company was organized in New York to sell microbe cultures to wine and beer makers, bread makers, cheese makers, etc. At first it looked like a highly profitable business proposition. Many manufacturers became interested. Some took stock. They saw millions in it. The chemist of one great brewing concern was frank enough to say: "Gentlemen, you have a wonderful business, but there is no money in it. I have bought one tube of cultures from you for $20. I shall never need any more. I can now do my own breeding. That tube will produce billions, trillions, quadrillions in an incredibly short time; therefore, so far as our brewery is concerned, we have an inexhaustible supply. You may sell every brewery in the country $20 worth, and that will be the end of your business."

The chief promoter of the microbe business said the other day: "I soon learned that the brewing industry of the United States is controlled by chemists. You cannot reach the proprietors of breweries except through their chemists, who are their safeguards. I had to quit selling microbes or starve to death. I could not eat the things."

Women Not in Demand.

Mr. Arnold Shanklin, just returned from Panama, says that men who go to Panama seem to think a wife one of the first necessities, but generally they are provided with sweethearts.

HONORED BY DEMOCRATS

James T. Lloyd, who has been elected chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, has represented the First Missouri district in congress since 1897. He has been a strong Bryan man and an earnest advocate of the free coinage of silver. Mr. Lloyd is a native of Lewis county, Mo., and is 54 years old. He was admitted to the bar in 1882, and has practiced law since. From 1883 to 1893 he was prosecuting attorney for Shelby county, and he has lived in Shelbyville since 1885.

earth and set the crock in a deep saucer of water, never allowing the water to dry out. Occasionally pour a weak solution of ammonia water around the stalk. Some try to force the buds by growing them in water, but, while they bud, they soon die and are never fully matured. By adding natural plant food, keeping the plant warm and moist, the flowers will develop nicely. All kinds of fruit blossoms will develop if the branches are kept in jars of water, placed in the strong sunlight.

"Seasick" in Skyscrapers.

After the fierce gale accompanying last week's blizzard many occupants of top-story offices in tall skyscrapers complained of nausea, says the New York Press. No wonder. Such structures sway considerably, and the sensation produced is not unlike that experienced in an earthquake. Then sickness at the stomach affects thousands. Let us style this earthquake feeling mal de selam, and the inclination to give up all the luxuries of the season on the top of the lofty buildings mal de scraper.

Was Too Sincere.

"Yes, ma'am," said the convict, "I'm here just for tryin' to flatter a rich man."

"The idea!" exclaimed the prison visitor.

"Yes, ma'am; I just tried to imitate his signature on a check."

Why He Was Invited to Dinner.

"One of Lord Palmerston's colleagues in the cabinet—well known for his love of dining out—asked him why a certain ambassador was constantly asking him to dinner. Lord Palmerston replied:

"Don't you know? His government always pays for the dinner if a cabinet minister is present. The ambassador knows that in you there is a sure find. In fact you pay for nearly half his dinners. The rest are distributed among our other colleagues."—From "Rambling Recollections," by Sir Henry Drummond Wolff.

JUDGING BY THE RESULTS.

Villager's Conversion Had Not Been of Great Avail.

"In our business we get many doubtful compliments," said Col. John F. Bishop, deputy surveyor of the port, the other day, "but I do not think I ever received a compliment such as my grandfather got down in my native state of Tennessee. My grandfather was a minister and I was a very small boy when we both strolled down the road one day. One of our fellow villagers came along toward us.

"Good morning," said the villager, who apparently had looked upon the cup. 'Ah, conver—hic—ted, parson,' he stammered with difficulty. 'An-twashy—hic—that con—hic—converted—hic—me.'

"That must be so," replied my grandfather, 'for it's certain the Almighty had nothing to do with your conversion.'—New York Evening Telegram.

THREE CURES OF ECZEMA.

Woman Tells of Her Brother's Terrible Suffering—Two Babies Also Cured—Cuticura Invaluable.

"My brother had eczema three different summers. Each summer it came out between his shoulders and down his back, and he said his suffering was terrible. When it came on the third summer, he bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and gave it a faithful trial. Soon he began to feel better and he cured himself entirely of eczema with Cuticura. A lady in Indiana heard of how my daughter, Mrs. Miller, had cured her little son of terrible eczema by the Cuticura Remedies. This lady's little one had the eczema so badly that they thought they would lose it. She used Cuticura Remedies and they cured her child entirely, and the disease never came back. Mrs. Sarah E. Lusk, Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 15 and Sept. 2, 1907."

A Little Too Soon.

Sam Jackson's wife was to be buried this afternoon and the bereaved colored man was shaking with grief over the coffin, when a comely young darkey maiden stepped over to his side and said, tenderly:

"Don't, Mistah Jackson; yo' must try an' bear up. Let me help yo' to fo'get!"

"Oh, Miss Johnson!" uttered the weeping man, between sobs, "it am berry kind in yo' t' offah such consolation, but ah mus' wait till aftah de fun'ral befo' ah engages in marriage talk!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Not Born There.

A Washington man, whose business had brought him to New York, took a run not long ago into Connecticut, where he had lived in his childhood. In the place where he was born he accosted a venerable old chap, of some 80 years, who proved to be the very person the Washingtonian sought to answer certain inquiries concerning the place. As the conversation proceeded the Washington man said: "I suppose you have always lived around here?"

"Oh, no," said the native. "I was born two good miles from here."

Perfectly Plain.

With all the impartiality of the partisan, Prof. Price set forth the contentions of both political parties regarding the tariff.

At the close of his talk he was surrounded by the fair members of the Woman's Current Events club.

"O Prof. Price," cooed the fairest, "thank you so much for your perfectly lovely talk! I understand all about the tariff now. It's just like a lover's comparisons—the free-traders are the other girls!"—Sunday Magazine.

THE DOCTOR'S GIFT.

Food Worth Its Weight in Gold.

We usually expect the doctor to put us on some kind of penance and give us bitter medicines.

A Penn. doctor brought a patient something entirely different and the results are truly interesting.

"Two years ago," writes this patient, "I was a frequent victim of acute indigestion and biliousness, being allowed to eat very few things. One day our family doctor brought me a small package, saying he had found something for me to eat, at last.

"He said it was a food called Grape-Nuts, and even as its golden color might suggest, it was worth its weight in gold. I was sick and tired, trying one thing after another to no avail, but at last consented to try this new food.

"Well! It surpassed my doctor's fondest anticipation and every day since then I have blessed the good doctor and the inventor of Grape-Nuts.

"I noticed improvement at once and in a month's time my former spells of indigestion had disappeared. In two months I felt like a new man. My brain was much clearer and keener, my body took on the vitality of youth, and this condition has continued."

ECONOMY CARRIED TOO FAR.

Old Man's Thrift That Led Him Into Ridiculous Action.

President J. G. Schurman of Cornell was discussing elective college courses, of which in the freshman and sophomore years, he disapproves.

"A freshman of 18 or 17," said President Schurman, "is too young to choose for himself the courses best for him. His mind is not mature enough. It will make mistakes.

"In its immaturity, its proneness to error, it is like the mind of an old man in my native Freetown. He, though old, was mentally undeveloped, and saw nothing wrong or ridiculous in a piece of economy that he put in practice in the cemetery.

"The old man had lost four wives, and desired to erect for each a headstone, with an inscription commemorative of her wifely virtues.

"But inscriptions, he found, were very expensive. He economized in this way:

"He had the Christian name of each wife cut on a small stone above her grave—'Emma,' 'Mary,' 'Hester,' 'Edith.' Under each name a hand pointed to a large stone in the center of the lot, and under each hand were the words:

"For epitaph see large stone."

To Save Trouble.

A Connecticut man tells of two Irishmen from Boston who, while driving through the state named, observed that many of the barns had weather-vanes in the shape of huge roosters.

"Dennis," said one Irishman to the other, "can ye tell me why they always have a rooster on 'niver a bin on the top of thim barns?"

"Sure," replied Dennis. "Its because of the difficulty they'd have in collecting the eggs."

A Sore Throat or Cough,

if suffered to progress, may affect the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give immediate relief.

"The poor you have always with you," said a woman to her husband, who had a mania for offering excuses.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

ADA THE YOUNG CITY OF CHURCHES, SCHOOLS AND INDUSTRIES

George Harrison Elected, for which the People who Cast the Vote Deserve the Credit and to Whom the News Extends Congratulations.

The News is generally pleased with the election returns, especially as regards the selection for mayor. Its open support of Geo. A. Harrison was based simply on its positive convictions that the welfare of Ada was deeply involved in the results of the mayoralty contest.

Personal friendship than which there is no brighter star in the firmament of men's resolves, could not ever direct the support of the News before a democratic primary, but the love the News sustains for this city and the consuming regard maintained for its honorable progress until it has become one of the best in the state will influence its action beyond any consideration of precedent, personal safety or future political consequences. The achievement of success in the contest for the head of the ticket by the progressive business and moral element should afford personal gratification to each participant, for assuredly it could not be held a "one man victory." Considering the difference in the organization, the duration of the campaign and the firm entrenchment of the wide open interests in Ada, there is small reason to speculate as to the reason of the closeness of the vote. Of course, a great many men voted without any particular consideration of "for or against" the joint, or "for or against" town progress. The personal regard for the candidate, his church, lodge or social affiliations largely effected his considerations.

A few men, and but few of value and weight in the community, opposed George Harrison simply because the News supported him. These hate fellows, men who appear to subsist on malice, hate and ill conceived jealousy paraded the streets hurling vile denunciations at the News, the most of which were of personal direction against the editor, doing their best to construct the campaign on the sole issue of "The Weavers trying to run the town" and the News "persecution" of one of the candidates for mayor. Such effort was distinctly abortive, the people did not believe either accusation was true, and, therefore, the News only right of self congratulation is on the fact that it occupies a field in a city, a majority of whose people are broad minded, unprejudiced and the supporters of principles and measures which favor constructing in this particular spot a city of high morals and commercial and educational progressiveness.

The returns of the election are as follows:

Words of Appreciation.

I want to tell every body who supported me yesterday for mayor, that I believe I know the nature of the fight and how much work it took to elect me. I deeply appreciate the support and loyalty of my friends. When the election on March the 25th ratifies the action of yesterday's primary and I shall have assumed the office of mayor, I shall try to be a becoming officer for all the people, and I shall especially enforce the law against all lawlessness. Respectfully,
GEORGE A. HARRISON.

Thanks, for Everybody.

E. H. Lucas, W. C. Duncan and W. T. Cox went to Guthrie yesterday in the interest of the state normal. This morning the editor received a telegram from Mr. Lucas in behalf of the party. It read as follows: "We congratulate democracy, the citizenship of Ada, Mayor, George A. Harrison and the Evening News on the results of the contest for mayor."

Mrs. Barry Again.

Mrs. Maggie Barry will appear in Ada again Friday and Saturday evenings at the First Presbyterian church. On Friday she will render "Macbeth" and on Saturday evening, "The Gibsons Doll House." Do not fail to hear this talented woman of the Southern platform.

An Aged Voter.

Grandpa Meaders nearly 95 years of age was assisted to the second ward polls Tuesday and cast a ballot for his choice. Grandpa does not believe in getting too old to exercise the privilege of the ballot.

Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity through the medium of the News, of thanking all my friends who aided me so loyally at the polls on yesterday.
THOMAS P. HOLT.

Ada Evening News.

Otis B. WEAVER, Editor and Owner.

Entered as second-class mail matter March 26 1901, at the postoffice at Ada, Oklahoma, under the act of Congress March 3, 1879.

There was little, if any, liquor used at, or near the polls.

Sheriff Smith and Sam McClure were on duty with attention alert to order and sobriety.

The election judges and clerks did their work well.

Ada should observe St. Patrick's day today. Didn't have time Tuesday.

New it is all over lets pull for a bigger and better Ada. This is what we all want any way.

It was a bitter contest but in the best of humor throughout. This is to be commended in the greatest degree.

No one has complained about unfair methods at the polls. It was done on the square said a voter on the street this morning.

Those working boys of Ada who boldly lined up at the polls and did the personal work which brought the direct results are the ones to whom most credit is due for George Harrison's election.

There are more doctors in Oklahoma per capita, than in any other state in the union; so it developed in the legislature Tuesday ("Nough to cause the dispensary business to flourish") an exchange observes.

At Court House.

Tom Duncan, Col., charged with assault and attempt to kill, was bound over in Justice Brown's court today to the sum of $500 in default of which he was committed to the county jail.

Chas. Case, col., of Stonewall is being tried this afternoon for selling liquor.

C. C. McAdoo was released in the county court today on the charge of selling liquor.

Handed Us a Lemon.

You have heard of people handing folks a lemon, haven't you? J. T. Higgins brought to the News office today a native grown lemon and "handed it" to the editor. A lemon its size has never been seen before in Ada. It weighs one and one-half pounds and measures 15 inches in circumference. He has several of this calibre growing at his home.

TRICK NO! ALWAYS AMUSING.

Sometimes Hubby is Entirely Unable to See the Joke.

This is a simple trick, and every married woman can perform it; but it requires the assistance of a confederate with a big bag of shining tinware on his back. First get a husband with an extra pair of slightly worn trousers in his wardrobe; then have the confederate—the man with the bag of tinware—come to the back door and knock gently. The wife must then peep out in a frightened way, and immediately the man with the tinware tells a tale that resembles a mining stock advertisement. The wife stops to think a few minutes. Suddenly she must rush to the wardrobe, but only after the man rattles the brilliant tinware to arouse her. The wife must walk back to the man again with the trousers. The man must take them and hand the wife a few tin pans. All the while the man with the tinware must smile happily. At last the transaction is completed, and presto change! the husband's trousers have disappeared and in their place appears some tinware on the kitchen table. This trick is very novel, and will amuse the husband greatly. The trick should not be performed while the husband is in bed, unless he has an extra pair of trousers.—F. P. Pitzer, in Judge.

"I GUESS" AND "CALCULATE."

Expressions Are Good English and Not at All American.

The accepted manner of defining Americans, either male or female, in the London comic papers or in second-rate English novels is to laud their speech plentifully with "calculate" and "guess," and with "well" at the opening of each sentence. This mode of marking, or any other, is in itself totally unimportant, but linguistically it is not without interest, for while it is purely conventional as now used and has no relation to any American habits of the present day, whether good or bad, it is pleasant to note that the hard-worked insular humorist need not have gone so far afield to find the words necessary for the identification of Americans. They really had but to turn to the "New Letters" of Thomas Carlyle (volume 1, page 178) and there read the following sentence: "He has brought you a Fox's book of Martyrs, which I calculate will go in the parcel to-day, you will get right good reading out of it, I guess."—Scribner.

Elephant vs. Crocodile.

An African hunter once found a large crocodile hanging in the fork of a tree about ten feet from the ground. As the place was fully half a mile from any water, it was difficult to account for the crocodile's strange position. When questioned upon the subject the natives explained that it was put there by an elephant. It seems that when the elephants wade into the Lake Ngami to bathe the crocodiles are in the habit of worrying them and biting their legs. Sometimes when an elephant is annoyed beyond endurance it picks its tormentor up and puts it among the branches of a tree and leaves it there.

Don't complain this summer about there being no place to go. Harry Parks is preparing to accommodate any old show that may come along whether big or little, good or bad. He is erecting in front of the Harris hotel a summer play house. He is going to call it the "Airdome." It has a floor space of 50x80 and it will have a seating capacity of 600 or 800 people. "If it need be," says Harry, "I could accommodate 1,000 people." It will be seated with chairs on an inclined floor and at a later date, a canvass roof will be provided.

Two shows have already been booked, one for Monday night and another on Tuesday. The pleasure seeking people of Ada will be glad to learn of this enterprise.

Uncle Sam's Vast Resources.
Our vast ascendancy not only in acquired wealth, but in the resources through which new wealth can be created, enables us to command the world's co-operation in every exigency. The United States stands first in the production of many staple commodities, and beats all the rest of the world combined in the yield of mineral oil, copper, cotton and corn. In an age of electricity, copper is an article of prime and constantly increasing necessity, and the world will have to come to us for most of its supply. It is coming to us, and it will come to us for more of it in 1908 than it got here in 1907. In a period in which cotton, as an agent of civilization, is pushing its conquering march round the globe, we are producing three-fourths of the world's cotton, and we could readily double our present output of it. The copper, the cotton, the wheat, the oil, the corn, the meats and the other staples which we are exporting to Europe, Asia and Africa in immense quantities these days, says Circle Magazine are creating for us the credits abroad which have been bringing to us streams of gold beyond the dreams of Midas. Those were magnificent tributes to the United States' command over the world's prizes of fortune which the Imperial Bank of Germany and the Bank of England paid us when they advanced their rates of discount two or three times recently, with the vain hope of checking the current of gold which was flowing to us.

A Chicago woman in an effort to keep her husband home at night played that she had been bound to the bedpost by burglars, who tossed things about the house in a very promiscuous manner. It has been a problem from time immemorial how to keep hubby at home. Women have tried various methods, such as putting on their most attractive gowns, having a box of cigars on the table and plenty of good things to eat, but without marked success. They have shifted to tears, reproaches, reading aloud passages from old love letters and veiled threats that they would go home to mother. But even these have had no great effect. About the only reliable, sure-to-work way is to marry a man so crippled up with rheumatism that he can't get out. Thus his loving wife occasionally may have the pleasure of his society.

Dr. Dudley A. Sargent, for many years physical director of Harvard university, and all his life concerned in the physical training of young men and young women, has found by observation and measurement that high scholarship men and women as a class are physically defective. Pale faces, sunken eyes, flat chests, round shoulders and small, flabby muscles are characteristic of them, he declares. On the other hand, the leaders in athletics too often have flabby intellectual muscles. The conditions form a strong argument for making physical training a part of the regular college curriculum. This is already the practice in some colleges for men and in most colleges for women. It might well be in all.

The establishment of a national bureau of health is regarded as one of the things which may be accomplished by the present congress. A committee of 100 men of science has consulted with the president in regard to it, and he has appointed a committee to advise with him. The purpose is to establish a bureau which will have power to deal with interstate and international questions of quarantine and health, and will have a wide range for the collection of information and general dissemination of knowledge among the people. One of the first steps will be a redistribution of the scientific bureaus of the government, in order that they may work more efficiently.

The merchant tailors, in convention assembled, have now considered the subject of the proper style of dress for men in the coming season, and have issued their edict on the subject. The particularly gratifying thing about the proscribed rules and regulations for masculine garments is that they are not rigidly obligatory, and men can abide by them, or not, as they please. That is wherein the tailors lack the advantage enjoyed by the dressmakers. The tyranny of the tailors is not so complete.

HAD HIS SCORE FOR NOTHING.

Little Man's Humorous Recollections of Uneasy Period.

All of a sudden a little man who had a seat about midway of the car, and who looked like a tailor, burst out laughing, and he laughed so long and so heartily that the man next to him inquired:
"My friend, something tickles you?"
"Yes, it does. I can't help but laugh every time I think of it."
"Well?"
"Well, I was in the run on one of the banks in October."
"I see. You were one of the crazy ones."
"Crazy as a loon. I was so scared that I went all to pieces. I heard of it while at home, and paid three dollars for a hansom to hustle me right over there. Then I stood all night in line, and didn't get into the bank until next day at two o'clock. Lord, but how I did fume and sweat! A fellow had to give me a drink of brandy to prevent a collapse—ha! ha! ha!"
"Well, you got into the bank?"
"I did—ha! ha!"
"And you got to the teller's window?"
"Yes—ha! ha!"
"And drew your money?"
"No. That's where the laugh comes in. I got there to find that the balance wasn't a blamed cent, and that I'd gone through all that scare for nothing—ha! ha! ha!"

Why Big Company Gave Up the Culture of Microbes.

A couple of years ago a rich company was organized in New York to sell microbe cultures to wine and beer makers, bread makers, cheese makers, etc. At first it looked like a highly profitable business proposition. Many manufacturers became interested. Some took stock. They saw millions in it. The chemist of one great brewing concern was frank enough to say: "Gentlemen, you have a wonderful business, but there is no money in it. I have bought one tube of cultures from you for $20. I shall never need any more. I can now do my own breeding. That tube will produce billions, trillions, quadrillions in an incredibly short time; therefore, so far as our brewery is concerned, we have an inexhaustible supply. You may sell every brewery in the country $20 worth, and that will be the end of your business."

The chief promoter of the microbe business said the other day: "I soon learned that the brewing industry of the United States is controlled by chemists. You cannot reach the proprietors of breweries except through their chemists, who are their safeguards. I had to quit selling microbes or starve to death. I could not eat the things."

HONORED BY DEMOCRATS

James T. Lloyd, who has been elected chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, has represented the First Missouri district in congress since 1897. He has been a strong Bryan man and an earnest advocate of the free coinage of silver. Mr. Lloyd is a native of Lewis county, Mo., and is 54 years old. He was admitted to the bar in 1882, and has practiced law since. From 1889 to 1893 he was prosecuting attorney for Shelby county, and he has lived in Shelbyville since 1885.

earth and set the crock in a deep saucer of water, never allowing the water to dry out. Occasionally pour a weak solution of ammonia water around the stalk. Some try to force the buds by growing them in water, but, while they bud, they soon die and are never fully matured. By adding natural plant food, keeping the plant warm and moist, the flowers will develop nicely. All kinds of fruit blossoms will develop if the branches are kept in jars of water, placed in the strong sunlight.

"Seasick" in Skyscrapers.

After the fierce gale accompanying last week's blizzard many occupants of top-story offices in tall skyscrapers complained of nausea, says the New York Press. No wonder. Such structures sway considerably, and the sensation produced is not unlike that experienced in an earthquake. Then sickness at the stomach affects thousands. Let us style this earthquake feeling mal de seism, and the inclination to give up all the luxuries of the season on the top of the lofty buildings mal de scraper.

who either come to them properly chaperoned or they go back to the states for them. The government builds nice six-room houses for the married men, and there is a very pleasant social set being formed. He did not seem to agree with Miss Helen Varick Boswell that old maids or bachelor girls are wanted there, the inference being that the right sort of men are either married or about to be when they go to Panama.

Why He Was Invited to Dinner.

"One of Lord Palmerston's colleagues in the cabinet—well known for his love of dining out—asked him why a certain ambassador was constantly asking him to dinner. Lord Palmerston replied:

"Don't you know? His government always pays for the dinner if a cabinet minister is present. The ambassador knows that in you there is a sure find. In fact you pay for nearly half his dinners. The rest are distributed among our other colleagues."—From "Rambling Recollections," by Sir Henry Drummond Wolff.

JUDGING BY THE RESULTS.

Villager's Conversation Had Not Been of Great Avail.

"In our business we get many doubtful compliments," said Col. John F. Bishop, deputy surveyor of the port, the other day. "But I do not think I ever received a compliment such as my grandfather got down in my native state of Tennessee. My grandfather was a minister and I was a very small boy when we both strolled down the road one day. One of our fellow villagers came along toward us.
"Good morning," said the villager, who apparently had looked upon the cup. "Ish con-ver—hic—ted, parson," he stammered with difficulty. "An-twashy—hic—that con—hic—converted—hic—me."
"That must be so," replied my grandfather, "for it's certain the Almighty had nothing to do with your conversion."—New York Evening Telegram.

THREE CURES OF ECZEMA.

Woman Tells of Her Brother's Terrible Suffering—Two Babies Also Cured—Cuticura Invaluable.

"My brother had eczema three different summers. Each summer it came out between his shoulders and down his back, and he said his suffering was terrible. When it came on the third summer, he bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and gave it a faithful trial. Soon he began to feel better and he cured himself entirely of eczema with Cuticura. A lady in Indiana heard of how my daughter, Mrs. Miller, had cured her little son of terrible eczema by the Cuticura Remedies. This lady's little one had the eczema so badly that they thought they would lose it. She used Cuticura Remedies and they cured her child entirely, and the disease never came back. Mrs. Sarah B. Lusk, Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 15 and Sept. 2, 1907."

IN JEOPARDY.

A Little Too Soon.

Sam Jackson's wife was to be buried this afternoon and the bereaved colored man was shaking with grief over the coffin, when a comely young darkey maiden stepped over to his side and said, tenderly:
"Don't, Mistah Jackson; yo' mus' try an' bear up. Let me help yo' to 'foget!'"
"Oh, Miss Johnson!" uttered the weeping man, between sobs, "It am berry kind in yo' 't offah such consolation, but ah mus' wait till aftah de funeral befo' ah engages in marriage talk!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Not Born There.

A Washington man, whose business had brought him to New York, took a run not long ago into Connecticut, where he had lived in his childhood. In the place where he was born he accosted a venerable old chap, of some 80 years, who proved to be the very person the Washingtonian sought to answer certain inquiries concerning the place. As the conversation proceeded the Washington man said: "I suppose you have always lived around here?"
"Oh, no," said the native. "I was born two good miles from here."

Perfectly Plain.

With all the impartiality of the partisan, Prof. Price set forth the contentions of both political parties regarding the tariff.

At the close of his talk he was surrounded by the fair members of the Woman's Current Events club.
"O Prof. Price," cooed the fairest, "thank you so much for your perfectly lovely talk! I understand all about the tariff now. It's just like a lover's comparisons—the free-traders are the other girls!"—Sunday Magazine.

THE DOCTOR'S GIFT.

Food Worth Its Weight in Gold.
We usually expect the doctor to put us on some kind of penance and give us bitter medicines.

A Penn. doctor brought a patient something entirely different and the results are truly interesting.

"Two years ago," writes this patient, "I was a frequent victim of acute indigestion and biliousness, being allowed to eat very few things. One day our family doctor brought me a small package, saying he had found something for me to eat, at last."

"He said it was a food called Grape-Nuts, and even as its golden color might suggest, it was worth its weight in gold. I was sick and tired, trying one thing after another to no avail, but at last consented to try this new food."

"Well! It surpassed my doctor's fondest anticipation and every day since then I have blessed the good doctor and the inventor of Grape-Nuts."

"I noticed improvement at once and in a month's time my former spells of indigestion had disappeared. In two months I felt like a new man. My brain was much clearer and keener, my body took on the vitality of youth, and this condition has continued."

ECONOMY WARRIED TOO FAR.

Old Man's Thrift That Led Him Into Ridiculous Action.

President J. G. Schurman of Cornell was discussing elective college courses, of which in the freshman and sophomore years, he disapproves.
"A freshman of 16 or 17," said President Schurman, "is too young to choose for himself the courses best for him. His mind is not mature enough. It will make mistakes."
"In its immaturity, its proneness to error, it is like the mind of an old man in my native Freetown. He, though old, was mentally undeveloped, and saw nothing wrong or ridiculous in a piece of economy that he put in practice in the cemetery."
"The old man had lost four wives, and desired to erect for each a headstone, with an inscription commemorative of her wifely virtues."
"But inscriptions, he found, were very expensive. He economized in this way:
"He had the Christian name of each wife cut on a small stone above her grave—'Emma,' 'Mary,' 'Hester,' 'Edith.' Under each name a hand pointed to a large stone in the center of the lot, and under each hand were the words:
"For epitaph see large stone."

To Save Trouble.

A Connecticut man tells of two Irishmen from Boston who, while driving through the state named, observed that many of the barns had weather-vanes in the shape of huge roosters.

"Dennis," said one Irishman to the other, "can ye tell me why they always have a rooster on' niver a him on the top of thim barns?"

"Sure," replied Dennis. "Its because of the difficulty they'd have in collecting the eggs."

A Sore Throat or Cough,

if suffered to progress, may affect the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give immediate relief.

"The poor you have always with you," said a woman to her husband, who had a mania for offering excuses.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.
